

The background is white and decorated with numerous overlapping circles of various sizes and colors, including blue, pink, orange, green, and yellow. These circles are arranged in clusters around the edges and behind the central text.

Yayoi Kusama

Today we will be...
experimenting with different techniques for creating polka dots.

Next

Do you remember who this artist is?

What is
she famous for?

Can you remember any of her art? What was special
about it?

Back

Next

This is Yayoi Kusama, also known as The Polka Dot Princess.

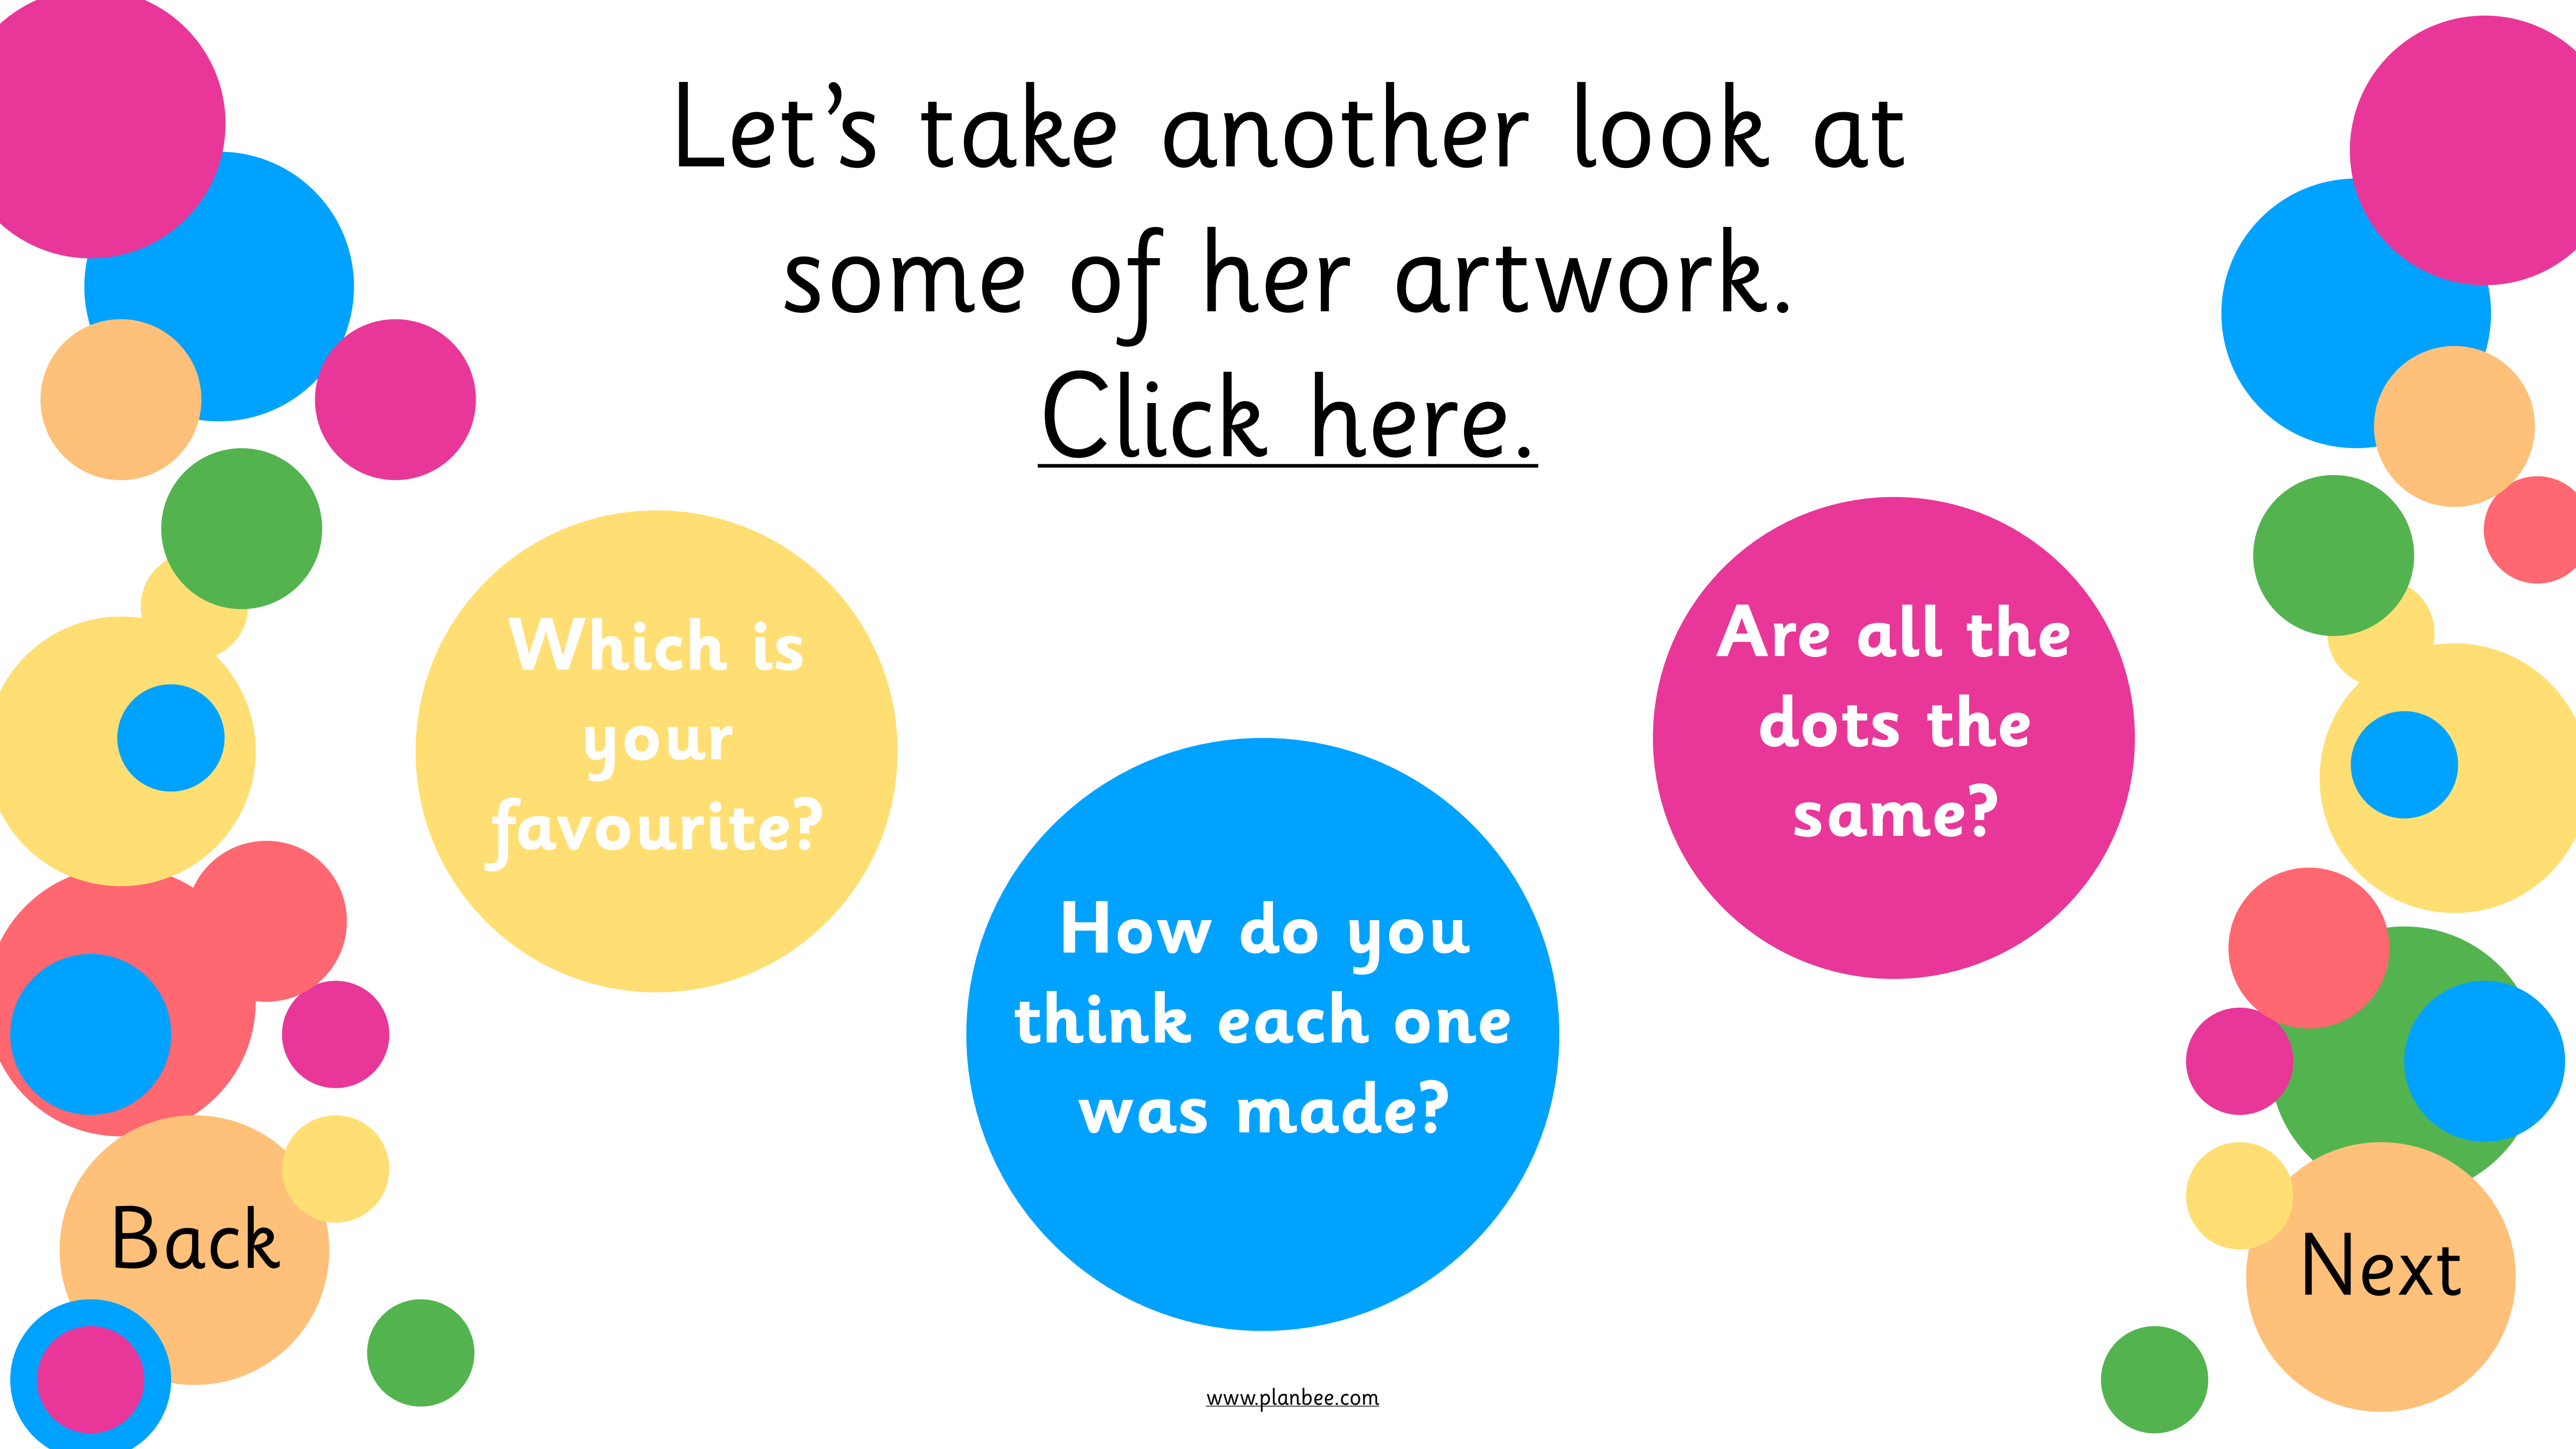

A lot of her artwork contains polka dot patterns.

She loves to create pumpkin sculptures and mirrored installations.

Back

Next

Let's take another look at some of her artwork.
Click here.

Which is your favourite?

How do you think each one
was made?

Are all the dots the same?

Back

Next

The background is decorated with numerous circles and dots in various colors including pink, blue, orange, green, and yellow. Some circles are solid, while others are concentric or have smaller circles inside them. The text is centered in a large, black, sans-serif font.

Today, we will be experimenting with different ways that we could create a polka dot
pattern.

printing

pens

pencil

paint

pastels

Back

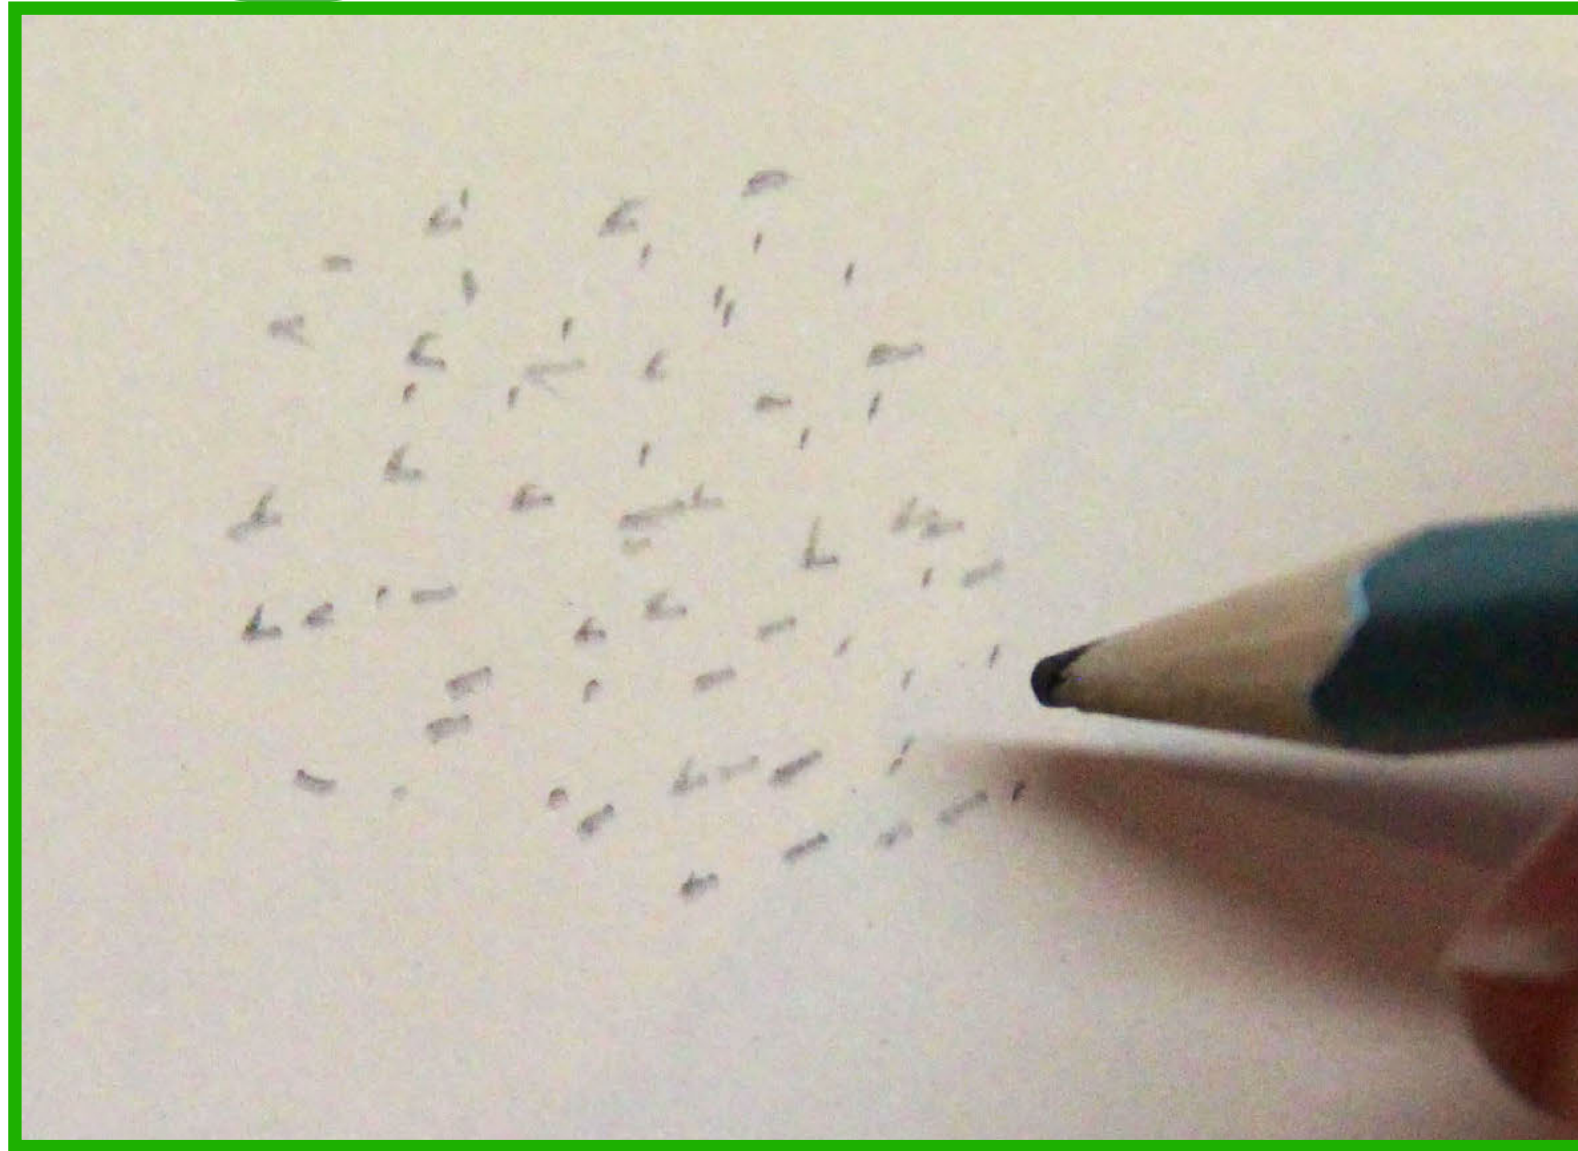

collage

Can
you think of any ways
to create dots?

Next

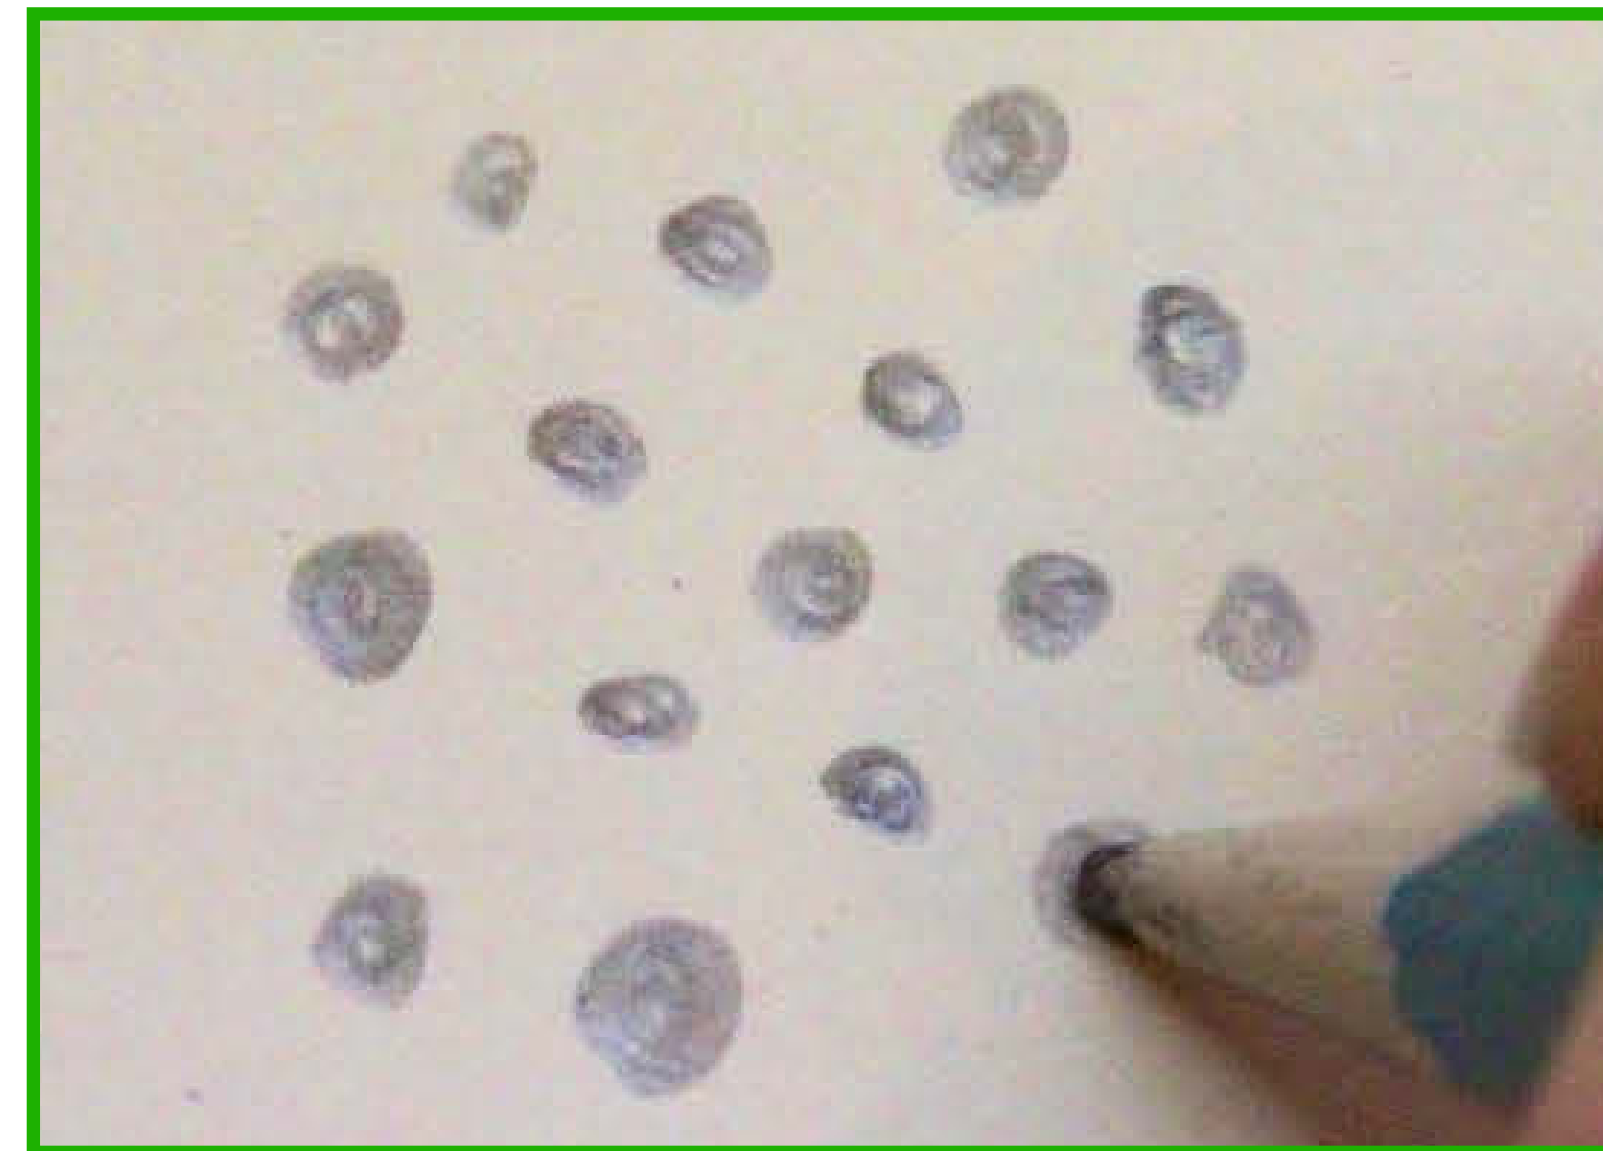

Have you tried any of these techniques?

pencil

stippling

circling

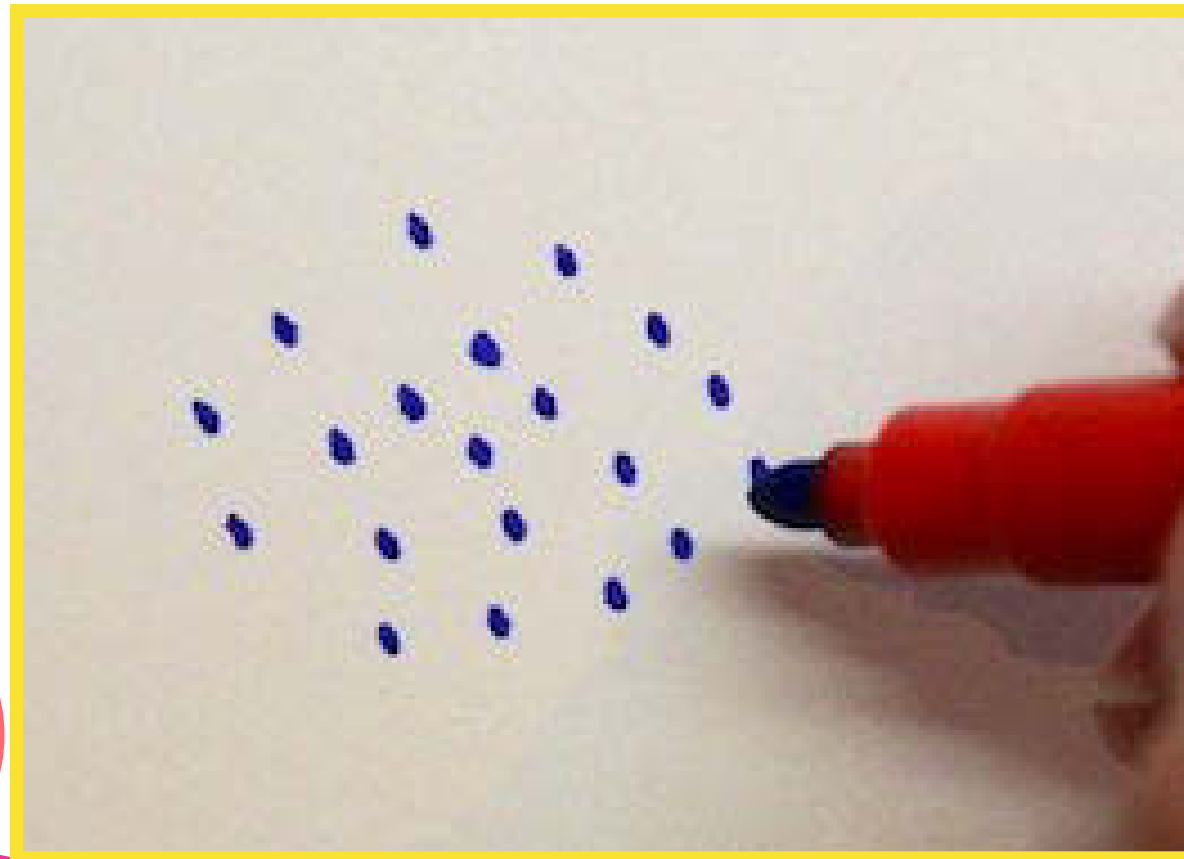

Back

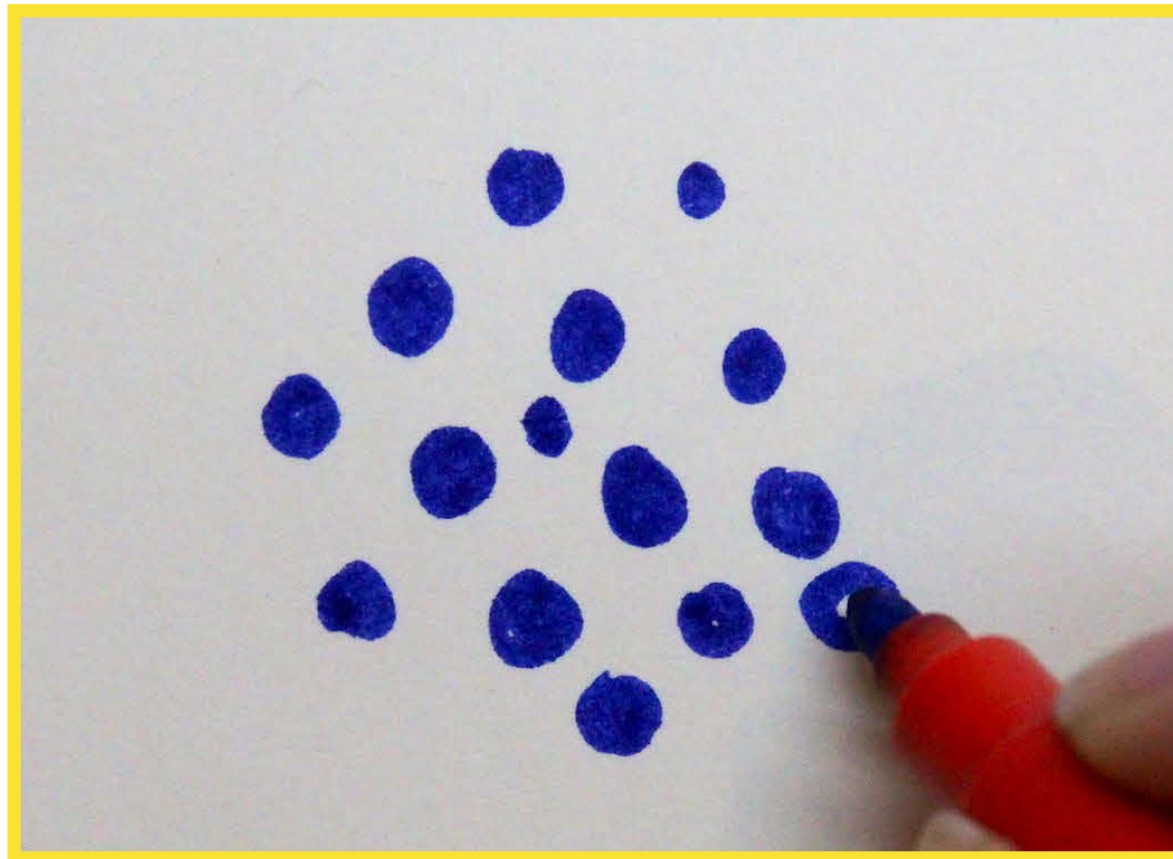

Next

pens

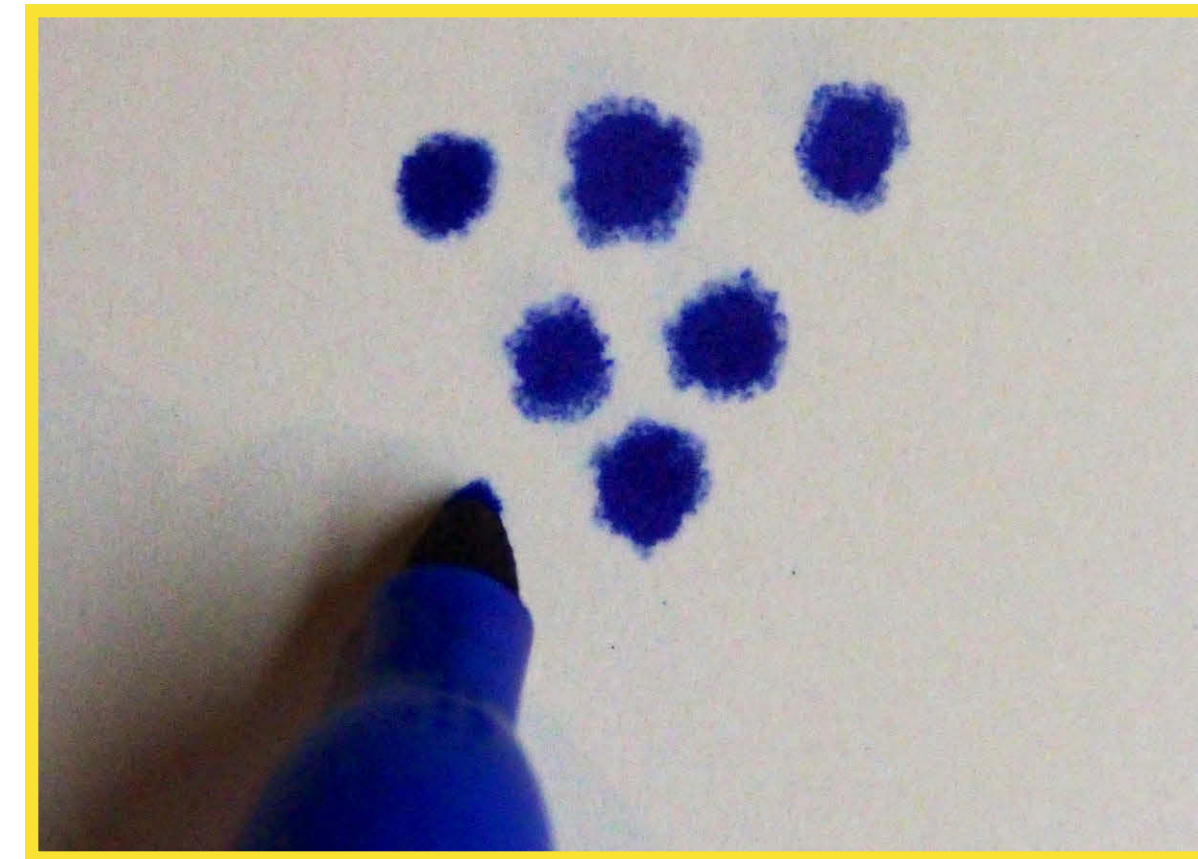

Have you tried any of these techniques?

stippling

circling

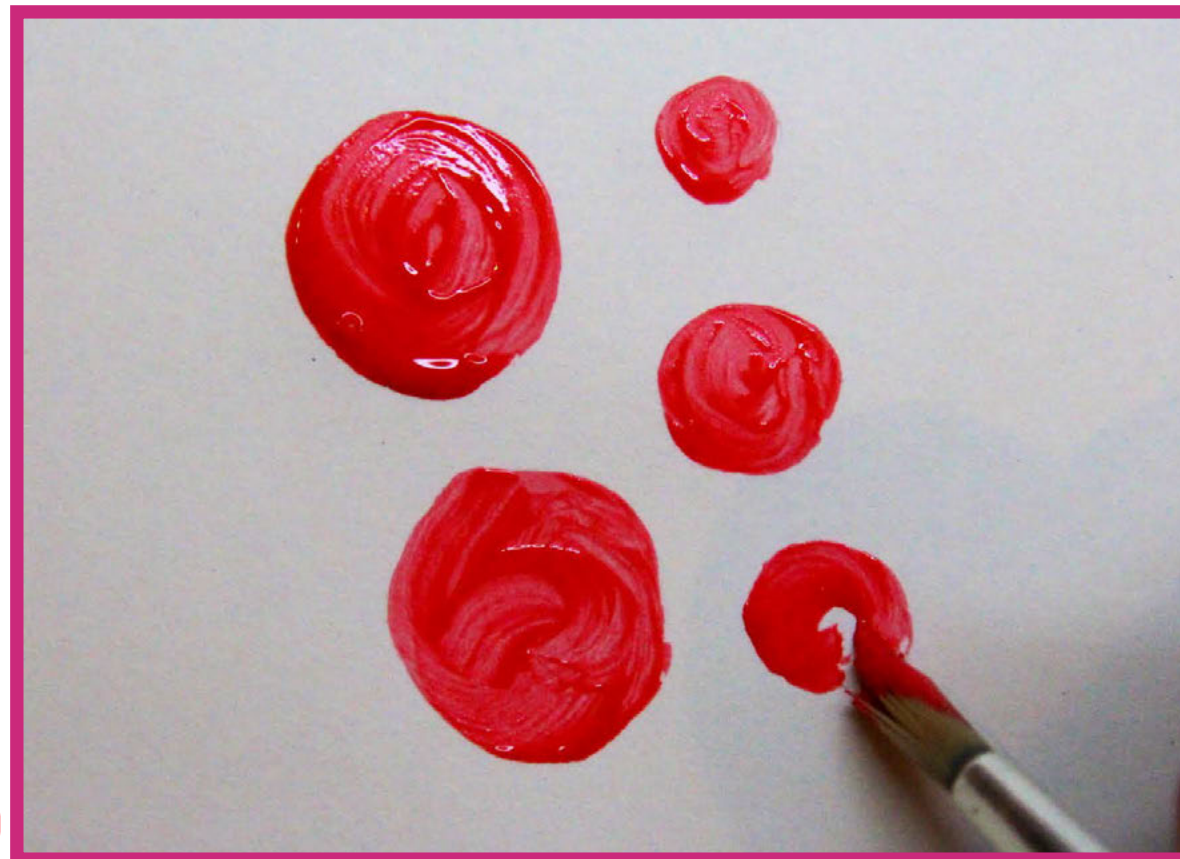

blotting

Back

Next

paint

Have you tried any of these techniques?

stroking

dabbing

twisting

You could try using different tools too!

Back

Next

pastels

Have you tried any of these techniques?

stippling

dotting

twisting

Back

Next

collage

Have you tried any of these techniques?

cut out

negative

Back

Next

printing

Have you tried any of these tools?

potato printing

Back

bubble wrap!

Next

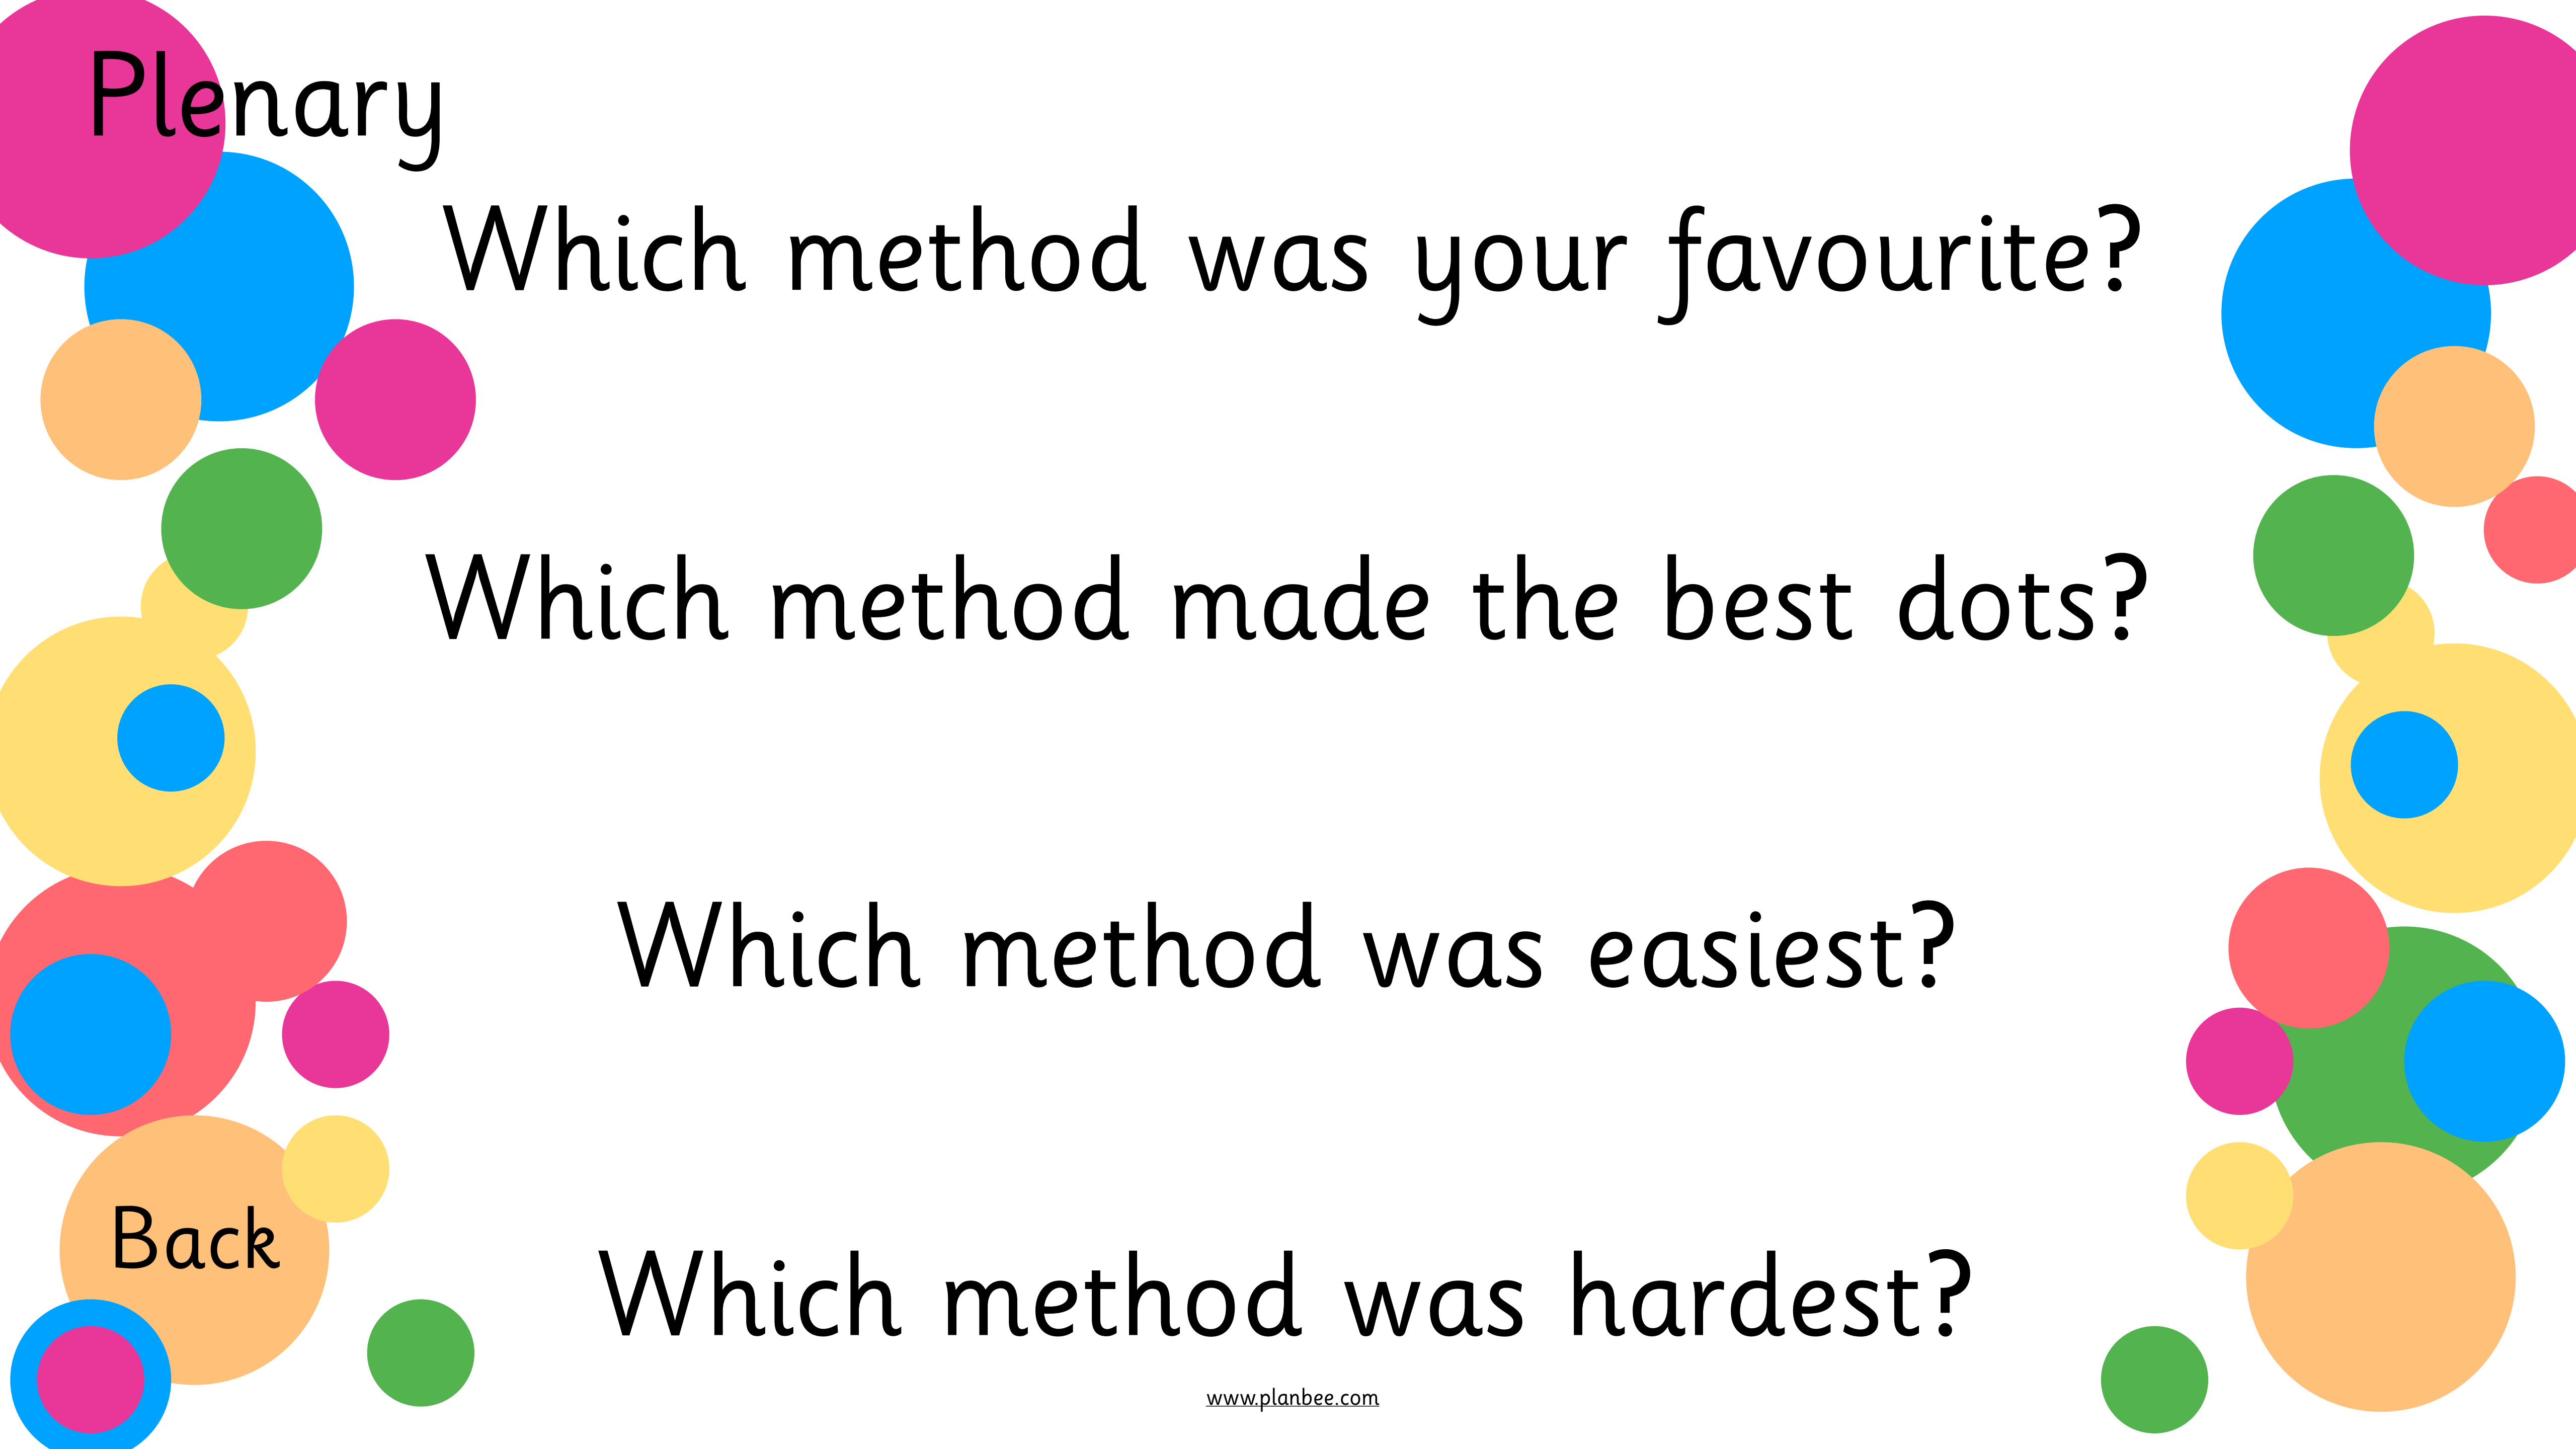

A decorative border on the left side of the slide, composed of various colored circles (pink, blue, orange, green, yellow, red) of different sizes, some overlapping.

Ready to try on your own?

Back

A decorative border on the right side of the slide, composed of various colored circles (pink, blue, orange, green, yellow, red) of different sizes, some overlapping.

Next

Plenary

Which method was your favourite?

Which method made the best dots?

Which method was easiest?

Which method was hardest?

Back